Spread of communicable diseases can be minimized by treating surfaces with ceramic photocatalytic and super-hydrophobic layers.

Glossary:

Photocatalytic: a chemical reaction that is driven forward by the exposure to light.

Hydrophobic: the property that makes a material repel water.